

Here's the Poem behind the Bumper Sticker

If you drive around a bit, you've probably seen a "Not all who Wander are Lost" bumper sticker. The phrase actually comes from this lovely poem:

*All that is gold does not glitter,
Not all those who wander are lost;
The old that is strong does not wither,
Deep roots are not reached by the frost.*

*From the ashes a fire shall be woken,
A light from the shadows shall spring;
Renewed shall be blade that was broken,
The crownless again shall be king.*

The author of the poem is J.R.R. Tolkien who included it twice in The Fellowship of the Ring, part of the Lord of the Rings trilogy. The poem itself is a reference to Aragorn and his wandering until he returns as the king of Gondor. ?

Of course, you probably knew all of that already. But if you didn't, now you do.
