

Trump's Right: The West Must First Have the Will to Survive

By now, I think most of us are aware that President Donald Trump is no great student of history or ideas.

But he does give voice to some statements that are pregnant with truth, even if perhaps neither a deep understanding nor practice of that truth is exemplified in Trump's personal life.

One of these statements came yesterday in his speech in Poland, in which he posed what he called "the fundamental question of our time":
